

Dear Jim —

Your letter has sat on my desk for a month now, ~~causing occasional fumes to rise and I read it occasionally as I have puzzled as I have~~ puzzled and ~~hesitated to do so~~ <sup>been unable to do so</sup> it. <sup>In your own words,</sup> ~~As you said,~~ it was not quite the letter I expected; indeed, I have never imagined getting a letter quite like it. As one friend commented, "Now that glenn has come to Moscow, maybe someday it will come to Cambridge."

I'm writing, finally, just to <sup>to tell you</sup> ~~say~~ that I don't hold the message against the messenger. ~~What~~ ~~that you were in a difficult position and I~~ have the highest <sup>confidence in</sup> ~~respect for~~ your own intentions and efforts in this regard. I very much enjoyed our <sup>long</sup> ~~substantive~~ <sup>talked</sup> conversations, as I'm sure you could tell, and I look forward to continuing them at ~~some~~ <sup>greater</sup> length, if you ~~are~~ <sup>are</sup> able and want and up to it, and I'm in Cambridge. Or, as you originally proposed, you or both welcome to stay with us if you come to Berkeley, and we can talk through the night. (Not that I do that very often — but it ~~seems~~ <sup>seems</sup> to go that way with us).

I've been working hard on the CMC as a case study for the MacArthur Foundation research project, stimulated by our first conversation and your manuscript — thanks you! — ~~and~~ <sup>so</sup> I would be glad to get the ~~materials~~ <sup>materials</sup> your "case package" you promised (the October 27 transcript, the Marder memo, the Rine letter <sup>transmission and background</sup> ~~and the information~~ is available of the <sup>transmission and background</sup> ~~Hand's key~~ <sup>Hand's key</sup> ~~publication~~). But if some hitch has developed, I'd like to see the ~~materials~~ <sup>materials</sup>.

I will be ~~in Cambridge~~ giving a lecture at Amherst on Thursday ~~at~~ at 8 which I just invite you, ~~if it~~ though that may be a bit far to come,
I may also give a session at Tufts on Wednesday, ~~for~~ ~~at~~ at the invitation of Mary Sherrin; ~~at which~~ I'm sure you would be very welcome, and I would like to ~~very~~ have you at it. Mostly, though, we need to talk together.
